To the Citizens of Oregon!

A. H. FRANCIS,

FOR many years a Merchant in Portland, has opened a Commission House in Victoria, V. I., for the sale of all kinds of flour, grain, bacon, butter, eggs, apples, &c., &c. All those having such articles to dispose of, and desirous of turning them speedily into cash, at fair rates, are recommended by shipping to A. H. F., Victoria, V. I. My well known reputation as a merchant in Portland, and my acquaintances and large trade in Victoria since 1859, will, I venture to say, be sufficient assurance that every attention in quick and safe sales, and prompt remittances, subject to the order of the consignees, will be strictly attended to. My business shall be DONE FOR CASH. I would invite and recommend shippers to ship the best quality of articles.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON, D. C. Dec 30 1866.

During the recess of Congress—or rather the holiday times—I find but little to write that is not contained in the newspapers. But there is one thing to which I desire to call the attention of those young Webfeet who are imbued with the military spirit, and this I do in consequence of the numerous applications being made from that State for positions in the Regular Army. Oregon is entitled to only three lieutenants in the Regular Army—no more—that is her quota of officers under the new military organization—and she has more than her quota—owing to the relation that Senator Nesmith sustains toward that department. They have been obtained by special favor, to a certain extent. It will be seen that when there are only three lieutenants and five hundred applications, somebody must be disappointed, yet through no neglect or fault of the Senators. And as the places are already filled it is useless for others to apply now. The same rule applies to the Navy.

In this connection I desire to speak of Lt. R. Lamson, though what I say may not be new to your readers. In a conversation with Senator Grimes Chairman of the Naval Committee in the Senate a few days since he informed me that Lamson is now in London where he had made a fortune out of the French Government—or rather Louis Napoleon—he having negotiated the sale of a large number of English breech loading guns to the Emperor, and is still engaged in supplying them. His uncle has a large arms manufactory establishment at Windsor, Vermont, under the firm name of Lamson Goodenow & Co., who rendered him service in this transaction. He is now married—a young lady of New York having gone over to London to marry him. Senator Grimes spoke of him as one of the most talented young men in the navy—being far in advance in point of ability to Lt. Cushing, who destroyed the Albemarle.

Volney Smith, son of Delazon Smith, is now living in Philadelphia (though recently in Texas) with his family, and has recently made application for an appointment in the Regular Army. His application was made through the Oregon Senators, or addressed to them.

In my last letter I neglected to state that the bill introduced into the House by Denny of Washington Territory providing appropriations of land for a railroad from Olympia on Puget Sound to connect with the Oregon and California road, was sat down on the calendar for January proximo. Also, just before the holiday recess, he introduced a resolution calling upon the State Department for the correspondence in the San Juan case. It will be of interest to those on that coast.

There is one thing I desire to call the attention of the authorities of your State to, and that is that Oregon has few records on file in Congress or in the Departments. For example there is not a copy of the constitution of the State to be found in the city, nor a copy of the laws of the State, except in the hands of Nesmith. And there are no copies of the journals of the Legislature, which ought to be on file in the Congressional Library. There should be no delay in sending them and all other documents relating to the State government which are useful to persons desiring to refer to these things both in and out of Congress.

The Johnson case, respecting the Cascades property is now ready for trial in the Court of Claims, and will soon be put on trial.

The case of C. S. Silver, administrator de bonis non of the estate of Pinkie Caruthers, deceased, against Robt. J. Ladd and Andrew J. Knott, also, the case of Andrew J. Knott against C. S. Silver, administrator de bonis non of the estate of Pinkie Caruthers and one other between these same parties are now in the Superior Court. Senator Williams has been examining the case of the parties. Also, the Boon & McLane case is nearly ready for trial. The former cases will not be reached for a long time, as the calendar is very full and they are low down.

Senator Corbett is now in New York. He will be in this city about the 10th of January.

Nesmith is still at Cincinnati, though he is expected here every day. Williams is still in this city. He has been attending meetings of the Finance Committee every day during the holidays from ten o'clock A. M. till three o'clock P. M. Fessenden, Sherman, Morgan, Cattell and Williams were the only members of the Committee who remained.

James F. Watson has resigned his office as Register of the land office at Roseburg, and another will be appointed in his place at once. Williams has recommended David Underwood, brother of Hon. J. B. Underwood of Eugene City.

Gov. Wallace, of Idaho, is in this city, looking after Idaho matters; also assisting Denny in that railroad charter for a road from Puget Sound to intersect the Oregon and California road, besides attending to business in the departments. Holbrook, of Idaho, has returned from Idaho. Col. Farrar is in the lobby, and in speculations etc.

DOGBERRY.

GOVERNOR LYON OF IDAHO IN ARREARS.—Publication was recently made that Caleb Lyon of Lynsdale New York, who has been Governor of the Territory of Idaho for several years past while on his way from this city to New York, in the night train, was robbed of the sum of forty seven thousand dollars Government funds, which he held as Superintendent of Indian Affairs of that Territory. Governor Lyon says he put the sum of money named in a belt, (which, for protection sake should be worn around the body) but that when he laid down in the sleeping car he put the belt under his head, that the thief took the money and left the belt exactly where the Governor put it. To say the least, this was a considerate theft who put the belt back under the Governor's head. What makes the statement about the loss of the money seem very strange, is the fact that Mr. Lyon should have allowed himself to bring such a large amount of money upon his person to this city. There was no occasion for it. He could have deposited it in any Government depository and taken a certificate therefor the stealing of which would not necessarily have subjected him to the loss of the money.

It will appear by record, we understand, that since July 28 1864 the Government has advanced to Superintendent Lyon, at different times, about one hundred thousand dollars, for which we learn he has rendered no account whatever. Therefore Governor Lyon will not only have to account to the Government for the $47 000 taken from the belt under his head, but for the still larger sum named above, the disbursement of which there is no official detail rendered at the department. We certainly hope Governor Lyon will make a satisfactory settlement of the financial affairs of his administration in Idaho reference to which we thus allude to publicly, because the subject is a public one, and will probably be before the courts at an early day.—Washington Republican, Dec 22 t

THE CROWN OF MEXICO.—It may be forgotten that a member of the Bonaparte family was offered forty years ago the crown of Mexico. The story is told by the Emperor himself in his sketch of Joseph eldest brother of this first Napoleon.

Whilst Joseph was living as a philosopher, on the banks of the Delaware, thinking of nothing but doing good to those around him, he received a proposal which surprised and touched him. A deputation of Mexicans came to him to place at his disposal the crown of Mexico. The ex King of Naples and Spain answered the deputation nearly in these terms: "I have borne two crowns, and I would not take a single step for a third. Nothing can be more flattering to me than to see men who, when I was in Madrid, refuse to recognize my authority come now in my exile to ask me to put myself at their head. But I do not believe the throne you wish to raise up can make you happy, and every day I spend on the hospitable soil of the United States proves to me more and more the excellence of republican institutions for America. Preserve them, then, as the precious gift of Providence. Put an end to your intestine quarrels, imitate the United States, and look out among your fellow citizens for some one more capable than I am to play the great part of Washington."—From Oeuvres de Napoleon III., Vol 2.

By Overland Telegraph.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO FEBRUARY 9.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—In the House a joint resolution passed authorizing the Secretary of War to furnish certain descriptions of the muster in and muster out rolls of any volunteer organization to the Adjutant General of any State.

Ingham of Iowa introduced a bill to establish offices for the assay of gold and silver at Denver, Colorado, Charlotte N. C., and Dahlonega, Ga., and appropriating $3 000 each for the repair of buildings at Charlotte and Dahlonega. The location of these offices is to be under the general control of the United States mint at Philadelphia.

The debate on Stevens military bill was resumed. Spaulding, of Kentucky, opposed the bill as more dangerous to civil rights than any measure ever presented. It was an enormous outrage on the people.

Thayer of Pennsylvania supported the bill. He said that when enacted it will be followed by terms of reconstruction which would recognize the equal rights of all citizens as the source of our future happiness and prosperity throughout the country.

Shellabarger of Ohio gave his reasons for voting for the bill declaring that it was an improper interference with the right to office of the President. This measure however stands as long as Congress receives his support. If it were not for bills vetoed by measures to establish civil government based on loyal suffrage.

Grinnell of New York and Raymond of New York, made strong speeches against the bill.

Garfield of Ohio supported the measure.

The House by a vote of 91 against 39 refused to second the demand for the previous question.

In the Senate, Wilson of Massachusetts, reported the House bill to increase the pay of the quartermasters and sergeants of the engineer battalion to $30 per month.

Trumbull of Illinois, wanted to know if this was one of the bills for raising salaries every day or two. If such a bill was to be brought up he would object.

Wilson and Trumbull was in the habit of lecturing Senators in a manner unworthy of the Senate.

Trumbull replied, questioning Wilson's right to say what was worthy or unworthy of the Senate, and asserting it to be his right to make such comments as he had made upon this bill.

The bill passed.

The Senate then took up the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill.

Wade of Ohio moved to strike out the daily Globe from the appropriations for reporting and printing the proceedings of Congress.

It was followed and it appearing that the contract with the Globe could not be abrogated by either party in side of two years the amendment was rejected.

On motion of Morrill of Maine the vote was reconsidered and the amendment adopted—4 against 14. The bill was otherwise slightly amended and passed. It goes to the House for concurrence.

Wade of Ohio called up the bill to admit Nebraska without debate. It passed over the President's veto ayes, 31 noes, 9. The noes were Buckalew of Pa., Davis of Ky., Doolittle of Wis., Foster of Ct., Hendricks of Ind., Morgan of N. Y., Norton of Minn., Patterson of Tenn. and Saulsbury of Del. After an executive session the Senate adjourned.

Washington News.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—Washington specials say the action of the House on Stevens reconstruction bill yesterday took every body by surprise. The vote was by yeas and noes and the speaker first counted 61 in favor to 87 against. On second, the previous question tellers were demanded and the vote being counted were 61 to 68. The following are among the members recognized as voting: Ray, Bingham, Banks, Dawes, Elliott, Shellabarger, Judge Peirce, Delano, Raymond, Hooper, Julian, Spaulding, Pomeroy, Henderson, Woodbridge, Alley, Dawes and Blow.

During the preceding debate Mr. Banks asked more time and said amid profound silence if more time was given it was not impossible a plan would be agreed on for reconstruction to which the President might give his assent.

Mr. Stevens promptly accused Mr. Banks of having been in correspondence with the President on the recent plan put forth by Southern Governors.

Mr. Banks essentially denied this, but said, the measures which we propose and the one how before the House depend for their efficiency in being enacted by two-thirds of the two Houses against the Executive. His said My belief is we cannot carry on the Government in that way and we must have laws to which the Executive will cooperate in order to make those laws effective. If after the representatives of the people have agreed upon what laws are necessary to secure the peace of the country and after the people have sustained us in those laws the President refuses co-operation, it is our duty to decide the question and proceed to the consideration of the position of the President himself. We shall before this session closes, come to such a conclusion as will compel the President to sustain us or as will justify us in adopting another course if he refuses."

Mr. Stevens said: "I know not whether it is the desire of the House to pass any such bill or disperse and go home and leave the President to triumph. I am aware there is much opposition on both sides of the House, and most fixation of views coinciding with the President's views and that his arguments have caused many gentlemen to believe his true one. [Great excitement among members.] I am unable to learn to what extent that has prevailed, but after the previous question shall have been voted upon I shall be better satisfied whether it is worth while to proceed further in any attempt in Congress to resist the power of the President or whether it is our duty like humble Christians to submit to the power that has conquered us."

There was a report in Presidential circles last night that the President would send a message to Congress next week on reconstruction.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—George Peabody has addressed a letter to Robert C. Winthrop, Hamilton Fish, Bishop McIlvain, General Grant and others, tending as a gift the sum of one million dollars to be held in trust by them the interest thereof to be applied for the promotion of the intellectual moral and industrial education of the youth of the more destitute portions of the south western States without any other distinction than their need and opportunities of usefulness. He also gives permission to the trustees to draw from the principal within the next two years not to exceed 40 per cent. He also gives planters back bonds of the State of Mississippi amounting $110 000 on which no interest has been paid since 1850 but the validity of which has never been questioned. The letter is long benevolent and patriotic.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The Senate confirmed the following nominations: Thomas J. McKinney of Iowa, Superintendent of Indian Affairs for Washington Territory; James Wentworth, of Missouri, Consul at Moscow; Matthew Patrick, of Nebraska, Agent for the Upper Platte Indians; Lafayette Carter, of Idaho Surveyor General of Idaho.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 9.—Rose & Co.'s rectifying and liquor establishment was destroyed by fire last evening. Loss $150 000.

The President's Reconstruction Plan.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—The President's plan of reconstruction in full is as follows:

WHEREAS, at the last session of Congress an amendment to the Constitution was proposed to the legislatures which amendment has not yet been ratified by the States in which rebellion recently prevailed and whereas there is reason to believe that the Constitutions of said States will soon be amended by voluntary acts of the legislatures and people thereof by the adoption of an article as follows:

Article—. Every male citizen who has resided in this State one year, and in the county in which he offers to vote six months immediately preceding the day of election and can read the Constitution of the United States in the English language, and write his name or who may be worth $250 in taxable property shall be entitled to vote at any election for governor members of the legislature and all other officers elected by the people. Provided that no person shall be excluded from voting who has the right to hold the elective franchise under the Constitution of the States or who at the time of the adoption of this amendment may be entitled to vote.

Now therefore in view of the above considerations in the confident hope of an early fraternal restoration of the Union.

Resolved, That the following article be proposed to the Legislatures of the several States as a part and parcel of the Constitution of the United States which when ratified by three-fourths of said Legislatures shall be valid as part of the Constitution.

ARTICLE 1. Section 1st. The Union under the Constitution shall be perpetual.

Sec. 2. The public debt of the United States authorized by law shall ever be held sacred and inviolate and neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States.

Sec. 3. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the States in which they reside and the citizens of each shall be entitled to all the privileges of citizens in the several States. No State shall deprive any person of liberty or property without due process of law nor deny any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the law.

Sec. 4. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers counting the whole number of persons in each State excluding Indians not taxed but when any State shall on account of race or color or prior condition of servitude deny the exercise of the elective franchise at any election for the choice of Electors for President of the United States Representatives in Congress, the officers of the Legislature and other officers elected by the people to any male inhabitant being of the age of 21 years and a citizen of the United States in the entire class so excluded from the elective franchise shall not be counted in the basis of representation. No State shall require a property qualification for office exceeding $500 of taxable property nor an educational qualification more than to read the Constitution of the United States in the English language and write his name.

The Great Bugbear

The Herald has we believe, got through with its bunglingly constructed romance of 'Federal party conspiracies' We have already exposed the utter falsity of three or four of these stories, but we cannot afford to follow that paper through the whole of the dreary mass of inconclusive and inconsequential stuff it has published in this subject Several of these fables refer to a period whose events are fresh in the recollection of most readers of the present day, and we take it for granted that if the fictions paraded by the Herald could not obtain credit while they were quite new, they will scarcely fare better now, after having been frequently made the subject of investigation, and after having as often been disproved There is only one matter more which has been alluded to by that paper, in this connection, that at all merits attention, and this cannot claim attention from anything the Herald has said in regard to it. We refer to the Hartford Convention of 1814 As this Convention has for more than half a century been a prolific theme for Democratic denunciation and as it is constantly cited by that party as affording conclusive proof of the treasonable intentions of its opponents, we have thought it not amiss to expose some of the misrepresentations of a partisan press in regard to it

The origin of this clinging calumny is traceable to John Quincy Adams. The story he told about a meditated conspiracy in New England had prepared the minds of Jefferson and his associates to believe anything that was reported to them President Madison, as we have seen, had only to be told by an unaccredited foreigner that he had the secret of a Federal plot in Massachusetts, and he at once bought it for an immense sum He was completely duped by the impostor, John Henry, and found that instead of having a rope around the necks of half the Federalists of New England, as he supposed, he was actually unable to produce the smallest particle of evidence that could involve or criminate any one.

Everything relating to the Hartford Convention has been subjected to the most rigid and scathing investigation; yet not a speech, not an act, not a private letter, not a public document, has ever been produced to show that it originated in treasonable designs, or that any treasonable object was meditated or discussed by its members

Noah Webster was a man as universally known as any in our history His character for veracity is above suspicion. He has left on record an account of the origin and proceedings of this Convention, and as he testified to facts within his own personal knowledge, no one will deny that he is a competent and credible witness. In the account he gives, he first relates the causes which led to the Convention

After the war of 1812 had continued for two years, our public affairs were reduced to a deplorable condition The troops of the United States, intended for defending the sea coast, had been withdrawn to carry on the war in Canada, a British squadron was stationed in the Sound to intercept our coasting trade, one town in Maine was in possession of the British forces; the banks of New England had all suspended the payment of specie, our shipping lay in our harbors, embargoed, dismantled and perishing; the treasury of the United States was exhausted to the last cent, and a general gloom was spread over the country.

In this state of affairs, an address was first issued to the people of Hampshire county, Massachusetts, to meet and consider whether any measures could be taken for the public relief, and to provide for the public safety. Several persons met at Northampton and after a free consultation on public affairs, agreed to send a circular address to some of the other counties. In compliance with the suggestions in this circular, many town meetings were held, and memorials were sent to the Legislature requesting that measures be taken for the relief of the people, then suffering the most terrible evils from a bad administration. The Governor of Massachusetts summoned a special meeting of the Legislature, and a resolve was passed appointing delegates to a Convention to be held at Hartford. Several other States followed this example.

After detailing the history of the origin of the Convention, of which the above is a brief summary, Mr. Webster continues:

The citizens who first assembled in Northampton convened under the authority of the bill of rights, which declares that the people have a right to meet in a peaceable manner and consult for the public safety. The citizens had the same right to meet in Convention then that they have now, the distress of the country demanded extraordinary measures for redress; the thought of dissolving the Union never entered the head of any of the projectors, or of the members of the Convention, the gentlemen who composed it, for talents and patriotism, have never been surpassed by any assembly in the United States, and beyond a question, the appointment of the Hartford Convention had a very favorable effect in hastening the conclusion of peace.

This is the testimony of a man whose veracity is unimpeachable He relates that which came within his own knowledge, as he assures us that he was acquainted with the whole history of the proceeding from its inception to its close.

Roger M Sherman, nephew of the celebrated Roger Sherman, was a member of the Convention An article having appeared in a Connecticut newspaper in 1830, which compared a political meeting just held at Hartford with the Hartford Convention, it was charged that the allegations were libellous, and Roger M. Sherman was summoned to testify as to the character of the Convention. The following questions were asked and answered

Question—Was it not the object of this Convention to embarrass and paralyze the Government of the United States in the prosecution of the war with Great Britain?

Answer—It was not. Nothing of the kind was done or entertained by the Convention, or by those with whom it originated. On the contrary its principal object was a more effectual co operation in that war, as to the defense of the New England States

Question—Has not that Convention been generally reputed as treasonable?

Answer—Much has been said and published to that effect, but without the least foundation I believe I know their proceedings perfectly, and that every measure, done or proposed, has been published to the world No one act has ever been pointed out as inconsistent with their obligations with the United States, nor was any such act ever contemplated by them

Here is the testimony of a man under oath. Who can gainsay it, or what proof have the calumniators of the Convention that can refute it? Will they set up the mere rumors originated by themselves, against the direct and positive evidence of Noah Webster and Roger M Sherman, both of whom knew the facts, while those who charge that the Convention was a treasonable association have no proof whatever of what they allege?

Let us now produce testimony to the same effect from the opposite party Major Jessup, a Kentuckian and a Democrat, had been sent by the President to Hartford to take command of the troops there and to keep an eye on the Convention He made frequent reports to the President of matters which came under his observation In one of his letters he said

The Convention will remonstrate and probably address the people, but its proceedings will neither result in an attempt to dissolve the Union, nor in a determination to resist by force the measures of the General Government

Of course Major Jessup was entirely right in his suppositions, as it had never been the intention of the Convention to bring about a dissolution of the Union.

But suppose the Convention had deliberated with this object in view,—according to Jefferson's principles what would have been the harm? Thus father of the Democratic party wrote a letter to Mr. Madison in 1794, (Works, Vol. IV. p. 111,) violently assailing President Washington for the course he had taken in suppressing the Pennsylvania Democratic rebellion In that letter he attempts to invent excuses for the rebels, saying "There was indeed a meeting to consult about a separation But to consult on a question does not amount to a determination of that question in the affirmative, still less to the acting on such a determination" Suppose, then, that the Hartford Convention did consult about a separation, (of which there is not proof,) it had the example of Mr Jefferson for insisting that its course was entirely proper and right The "great apostle" could look without terror on a meeting called to consult about dissolving the Union, why should his disciples take fright at a like proceeding?

The journal of the Hartford Convention has been published Not a word can be found in it of a treasonable nature The address the Convention issued to the people is full of loyalty to the Constitution The men who framed it were federalists as were the people who supported them They were members of that party which had founded the Constitution in opposition to the Democracy They left it for this latter party, which had opposed the Constitution from the first, to invent and put into practice those abominations, nullification, disunion and secession No stain of disloyalty attaches to them, and he who attempts at this day to brand them with treason only succeeds in discovering his own blind malignity, or dense and unpardonable ignorance

NEBRASKA A STATE.—The bill admitting Nebraska into the Union has passed both Houses of Congress over the veto Nebraska is therefore a State, the thirty-seventh in the list Both Kansas and Nebraska, which a few years ago, formed the battle ground between freedom and slavery, are now members of the National Union Slavery instead of being extended into those Territories, is abolished everywhere In the struggle for Kansas and Nebraska, the slave-power perished Long live the two States which have come victorious out of the struggle which began as a contest for the mastery over them!

Isn't it about time some of the Democratic papers were speaking out in regard to the President's new plan of reconstruction? So far, they have uttered not a word. Why this silence? Are they preparing to come out in favor of negro suffrage? Even the President's own organ for this State has not yet ventured one word upon this all engrossing subject But look out! The whole crowd of them will be out for negro suffrage soon!

On the 30th of January a resolution was introduced in the Pennsylvania Assembly approving the course of President Johnson. The same was indefinitely postponed by a vote of 35 to 11.

STATE ITEMS.

Several citizens of Oregon City have in contemplation the erection of works for the manufacture of linseed oil. The Enterprise thinks it will win

The "soldier boys" at Fort Klamath have started a paper which they call the Growler The boys who got up that earthquake hoax are able to get up anything in the sensation line, and in good style, too

We learn, says the Sentinel, that N B Pool, of Canyonville, has discovered a very rich quartz lead and a half miles from that place Those who have specimens, say that the quartz is the richest they have seen Placer diggings have been worked in that neighborhood for many years

The Sentinel of the 24th says Mr Patterson informed us last evening that Thomas Armpriest was drowned in Bear Creek Thursday evening near Mr Kincaid's He was returning from Jacksonville and attempted to cross Bear Creek where there was no ford, and jumping his horse off of a steep bank into swimming water, was at once carried off by the swift current Search was made for the body, but up to Friday morning without success The accident occurred below the mouth of Jackson Creek, not far from Rogue river and it is quite probable that that the body has been carried into this latter stream

By letter from Bethany, Marion county, we get the following: There is a company of the men who have taken a contract to dam Silver creek, dig a race and bring the water to the place in sufficient quantity to run a grist mill, carding machine, &c The ground from where the dam will be built has been leveled, and it has been ascertained that the water will have plenty of fall T W Davenport, our present County Surveyor, is going to erect the mill Others will put up machinery of different kinds We had intended to have erected a brick seminary this last season, but failed to get the brick But it will be erected this summer, as men of capital and perseverance are at the head of these affairs.

A letter from Marion county gives the following intelligence The saw mill known as the Morrison or Woodsdale mill, situated on Aberqua, was swept off together with a great deal of lumber It is to relate At Parkersville there was a large drift accumulated against the county bridge across Pudding river The bridge they cut away, in order to get rid of the drift, but it failed to move it although the bridge went The drift is a solid mass from where the bridge stood up to the mill dam across Pudding river, thereby causing the river to back up and obstruct the passage from the saw and grist mills, entirely destroying the mill site, unless the drift can be removed, which is at least doubtful All the bridges in that place have been swept away

The Review of Salem gives a certain character who is becoming somewhat notorious, a suitable airing The dirty dog Cook who has created considerable excitement through the press, has shown himself to be nothing better than a scoundrel, and should be licked from every door like a dog. As we learn his late transactions they are as follows. About two weeks since he went to Wesley Graves' hotel, asked for a good room, which was given him immediately over a family apartment He refused to allow any one to take care of his room The occupants of the lower rooms discovered several holes in the ceiling immediately over their bed, on Sunday noon, while the proprietor was at dinner, the proprietor went to Cook's room and found an auger bill under the bed, with which the dirty wretch had made several holes in the floor to enable him to see the occupants below The proprietor made him leave the premises and pay $20 for the damage he had done to the floor, which he pulled out of a well filled purse and paid. We believe the dog was egged out of town on last Tuesday night Let him receive a kick instead of charity wherever he may go

The Oregon City Enterprise of Saturday says: The high water in the Willamette river, and above this city for the winter of 1866-'67 may now be said to be over with Yesterday the water had fallen nearly eight feet at Canemah. During the past week it has been at its highest, and to within four feet of the unprecedented flood of 1861-'62 Notwithstanding that the People's Transportation Company have met with some delays and difficulty in navigating the streams above us, some of their boats those on the longest routes—have not in the least been discommoded They have received and discharged their freight at the company's warehouse on every return trip Those steamers employed on the shortest routes, to Salem Albany, etc., have made their regular trips to and from Rock Island, during the highest stages of water, experiencing a little trouble, but only for a space of time equal to about two trips This shows conclusively enough, that even with the doubts of the public regarding the improvements of the company at this city, these improvements are all or more than the company expected of them The water has remained longer at its height in a season, than ever was known before and in all probability we shall not have a recurrence of the like for many years The Basin has stood the floods without perceptible injury and as we have before stated, stands as firm as the rocks upon which it is built

JAPAN.—The following is an extract from a private letter from a person on board the British ship of war Princess Royal, at Yokohama

"I have had a peep at the capital of the Japanese empire, the far famed Jeddo We came up within ten miles of the city in our ship, when we were obliged to take to a gunboat, on account of the shallow water We landed on Thursday morning and went straight to the English Legation, a nice looking place Sir H Parkes was there and a guard of honor Jeddo is fourteen miles long, and covers a great deal more ground than London, although the population is not half as great. The vast size of the place is owing to the houses being one story ones After leaving the legation we visited a temple where there were victims of Daimos who had performed the Happy dispatch—that is they had been graciously permitted to commit suicide by cutting their bodies open with a sword. We next visited a temple where there were some gilded idols, such as the Japans worship. These idols are of colossal size, and their faces have all the same expression They do no credit to the Japanese religion, nor to their taste for the beautiful We saw the old legation, which is now a temple with a very beautiful garden attached to it Five or six years ago two hundred armed Japs attacked it, and after killing two sentries, tried to cut down our then Minister and his attendants, but the doorway was low, and the two headed Japanese sword unwieldy, and before the English could be got at, they drew their revolvers and shot a dozen of the murderers The sword cuts made on the doorway are still visible We walked through a portion of the town, the streets are dirty and the houses are built of wood The Tycoon's and Daimos' palaces are one story ones, and are partly built of stone The Tycoon's palace is very extensive, and is surrounded by a moat We were attended by a guard, as the Jeddo Japs are not yet so friendly to the Europeans as they will be The Japanese workmen are very skillful Their lacquered and fancy goods, such as tea trays, boxes, china, ivory carvings, etc, are very beautiful and remarkably cheap here A pair of china jars costing £5 would fetch £20 in England Instead of visiting cards the Japanese have beautifully tinted paper tied with silk The Japs have also newspapers and comic periodicals"

VICTORIA, Feb 7—The American ship Market is Bud lie Captain H we bound from port on Puget Sound to San Francisco, with 513,000 feet of lumber, was caught in the terrific gale of Sunday night while running, it on the straits on her light sail and had her canvas blown away The Captain then headed the ship for anchorage in Royal Roads but drifted up on Rose bit Rocks. After striking the ship remained fast The Captain and all hands, with the exception of the cook, left in the ship a boat for Esquimalt H M steamer Sparrowhawk was immediately sent to the relief of the distressed vessel Upon reaching the Rocks, it was found that the ship had floated off on the flood tide and was then off Duck very Island waterlogged She was towed into Esquimalt harbor where she now lies having sustained scarcely any injury other than the ship is uninsured

About 11 o'clock on Monday night the steamer Wm Meriller bound to Victoria with a load of produce from Penn's Cove on Whidby's Island ran on a sunken rock at the place and went over her beam ends Discovering herself helpless by means of a small boat, in which they managed to reach the shore notwithstanding the heavy swell The wind was blowing a perfect hurricane at the time Fortunately all the passengers and crew got safely off her carrying a boat with provisions, but the high wind that prevailed prevented any communication being had with the vessel The Wm Meriller is an American built schooner of 400 tons and is valued at $5 000 The cargo is worth about $5,000

VICTORIA Feb 8—The Hudson Bay Company's steamer Otter, arrived yesterday from the Northern coast She reports the weather intensely cold in that region Capt Stevens of the wrecked schooner Nanpareil came down as passenger REMARKABLE MOVEMENT AMONG THE JEWS IN BOMBAY—The Jud on Prétigue a Portuguese journal published in Goa states that great excitement has been created among the Jews in Bombay by the publication by their President H B Ezra, a member of the family of Aaron who had lately come to Bombay from Jerusalem of a pamphlet under the title "The Voice of the Prophet" The object of the "Voice" is to urge the Jews that it is useless waiting any longer for the promised Messiah, as this is Jesus Christ himself, whose doctrines have been spread all over the world without sword or fire" The "Voice" is said to use arguments which are solid and convincing "Compare," says the Pontiff, "the Old and the New Testaments, and the truth will be seen" He also adds he was born in the old law, and under it was elevated to the priesthood but the light had already penetrated with its rays into the deep recesses of his mind, and he is therefore persuaded, and with well founded reasons, that it is in vain that the Messiah is now looked for.

SUCCESSFUL BURGLARY—STOWELL, CHAMBERLAIN & Co's SAFE BLOWN OPEN AND ROBBED.—Our town was startled on Friday morning by the discovery of a great burglary in the Banking Office of Messrs Stowell, Chamberlain & Co The safe was a double one made by Lewis Litt & Son, of the largest size, weighing many thousand pounds The burglars obtained an entrance into the office by forcing open one of the windows with a jimmy In the lower left hand corner of the right hand outer door of the safe which was two inches thick a hole was drilled, through which powder was introduced It was blown open separating the outside from the bolts and inside casing rendering it an complete wreck The lower hinge of both doors were broken off They next attacked the inside safe which was two & a half inches thick, made with folding doors They drilled one through the right hand door in exactly the same point they had on the outside safe It was opened with shears This gave them access to the money and bonds Am ounting to twenty five thousand dollars which they carried off The larger portion of this belonged to special depositors They also took valuable papers belonging, to the firm leaving in their flight a bag of gold and silver, also a hundred dollar bill This safe was made to order by Mr Litt & is filled with an I was supposed to be burglar proof as it was a double safe, one inside the other, with Litt's combination locks on the outside and inside doors No trace of the burglars has been discovered They came well prepared with jimmies drills, gunpowder &c The clerk of the bank did not leave there until twelve o'clock at night The explosion was heard at four in the morning, showing they were over three hours at their work [Albany Ill.]

PRESENCE OF MIND.—Whenever you go out to purchase a good suit of Clothes or anything in the Clothing line, be sure to have presence of mind enough to go to KOHN & FISHEL, at the St Louis store, No 111 Front street

NEW ARRANGEMENT.—THE OLD BUCHTEL & CARDWELL PHOTOGRAPH GALLERY 89 First Street, has passed into the hands of JOSEPH BUCHTEL, Proprietor and Operator, who, having just returned from San Francisco with ALL THE LATEST IMPROVEMENTS, is prepared to take every style of picture known to the art

NEW TO-DAY.

CAMOX CITY ITEMS.—On Saturday we made a brief visit to Oregon City The town wears a better appearance than usual at this season of the year The arrival of the steamer at the wharf adds much life and fresh beef Notwithstanding the severe times created a rather lively scene No damage worth mentioning was done by the freshet The wooden factory was compelled to suspend operations for a few days but is now running again Night work has been stopped for the present on account of the dull demand for woolen goods The mills have been receiving considerable new machinery during the last few months which has been set up under the direction of Mr J T Worthey the superintendent All of the late machinery is of the very first class and is putting in much better shape than the original pieces Three new sets of cards have been set up two of which have been running and the third is nearly ready It may be mentioned that the mills turn out about 1,000 yards of cloth per day Thereare eight spinning jacks and nineteen looms in operation Of the latter there are twelve Crompton and seven broad looms, the old pieces are expected to be set to some account, which will be put on dressers and a wool duster We saw a beautiful little machine running in one of the upper stories into which an operative was feeding knittings and waste woolen shreds of cloth yarn etc which came out in a sort of continuous batting sheet ready for the carder This machine is a new one for working up the waste rags which have been accumulating ever since the mill started The building will soon be filled to its utmost capacity We also visited the paper mill but unfortunately some part of the machinery was out of repair and we did not see it in operation During the last week experiments have been made in the manufacture of wrapping paper from a fibrous substance gathered on the Columbia bottoms after being overflowed It makes an article of wrapping paper somewhat inferior to that made from rags, and it may therefore likely to become a substitute for it We were informed that one or two parties from other manufacturing establishments are going into shortly preparatory to spring operations and that one extensive building will be done as soon as the proper season shall arrive The Cliff House affords what Oregon City has long wanted—first-class hotel accommodations It is not a large house but it is well arranged comfortably furnished and kept in excellent style by Messrs White & Rhodes We copy from the Enterprise the following items of local news Mr Henry Warren Receiver of the Oregon City Land Office, has been appointed Pension Agent in place of Judge W T Matlock Resigned The committee of the Common Council to whom was referred the proposition of Messrs Kinnedy & Algier to lay a certain class of water pipes through the city reported adversely and the report was accepted ...Postmaster Kelly of this city has received all the blanks etc requisite for filling orders upon other offices in the country for the transmission of money The County Court Judge Matlock presiding has been in session the past week Supervisors were appointed in the various districts of the county bill bridges all ...ks free, and annul y accounts allowed One or two civil actions were tried At about three o'clock on the morning of Tuesday last Messrs Dolan and Matthews accompanists of a dwelling belonging to Mr Harvey, in the rear of the Fashion Billiard Saloon in this city were awakened by a crackling like fire, and upon getting up found a roll of inflammable material burning upon the porch, which was kicked to the ground As the bundle struck the earth it burst, and sent blue blazes in many directions It is another mystery, unexplained which baffles investigation At a regular meeting of Willamette Lodge No. 15 I O O F Saturday Feb 2d, the following persons were installed as officers for the ensuing quarter J M Bacon, W C T Miss M Francis W V T P T Barclay W S Miss J Gaffaney W A P H P Daily, W F S Miss Addie Good W T R G Zigler, W M; Mrs. H. Bray W D M Miss Emma Good W I G A G White, W O G Mrs H. Pease W R H S Mrs. M Penney W L H S S M Cook W C This lodge is in a thriving condition and numbers about 130 members in good standing

COUNTY COURT—MARQUAM, JUDGE —On Saturday the County Court had the following proceedings Order entered for erection to John Quinn to appear at the March term of the court to make final settlement of guardianship property

In the matter of the estate of Elias Caruthers C S Silver, administrator, &c leave now filed his final account and an order was made for the publication of final notice

The following appointments of Road Supervisors for the several road districts of Multnomah county, were made No. 1, L Jowett No. 2, F M Durel No 3 Clark Overpeck; No. 4, James Allen, No 5 S Potter No. 6, Wm. Farrell, No 8, George M Long No. 9 F C Royal No 10, George M. Rook No. 11, James Powell, No 12, J Zimmerman No 14, E Long No 15, John Stephenson; No. 16, Thos. Lee; No. 17 W H Watson; No. 18, W. Barnes No. 19, N. S. Gilham, No. 20 O. P. Lent.

Mrs. Atkinson was granted a license to retail liquors in West Portland

The court adjourned.

PORTLAND LITERARY ASSOCIATION.—The following notice was issued by Mr Miner We are informed that the Literary Association has over one hundred members, and that the attempts to get enough members together to attend the usual business of an annual meeting, have failed ... Not more than a dozen or so attended the meeting on Saturday night and not so many the evening previously both of which adjourned to Saturday evening This state of things is a reproach to the Association, and the members ought to redeem themselves by attending in force on Tuesday evening

An adjourned meeting of the members of Portland Lyceum Association was held at their rooms on Saturday evening last. On motion, Gov A C Gibbs was called to the chair, there being but few of the members present, and on motion he was adjourned the meeting, and on motion the Secretary was directed to publish a notice, calling for a full attendance of the members at the next meeting On motion the meeting adjourned to re-assemble on Tuesday evening, the 12th inst. In pursuance of the above it is hereby desired that all members feeling an interest in the welfare of the Association will be present at that time. THEO F MINER, Sec'y

MULTNOMAH COUNTY.—The proceedings in Recorder's Court on Saturday were as follows

James Wilson charged with an assault and battery upon Neil McNeil The testimony showing that an assault with a dangerous weapon had been made, the defendant was held to answer in the Circuit Court.

Louis Rose charged with larceny, in stealing fifteen boxes of cigars from L. F Schrader, had an examination and was committed to await the action of the Grand Jury at the February term.

A charge was entered against Joe Andrews, a half breed, of being a vagrant and in the cigar larceny from Mr Schrader John Dooley was charged with running a team without a license

The latter two charges will be heard this morning.

CIRCUIT COURT.—The February term of the Circuit Court will commence this morning, Judge Shattuck presiding.

THE WRONG MAN CAUGHT.—A telegram was received by Sheriff Stitzel yesterday afternoon, informing him that a party had been arrested in under arrest at San Francisco, who ... To be the murderer of Mr Rinche in this county, and held subject to the order of Sheriff Stitzel The one-eyed Portuguese will no doubt be highly gratified to learn to-day that he is not the murderer, and that his services as a captured criminal are no longer required, the real being in limbo here.

HASSALO TO JOE DELAVAN.—Joe Delavan will take his benefit on Tuesday evening instead of Wednesday evening as heretofore announced The entertainment will be given by a combination of companies comprising some of the oldest performers on the coast, among whom are Dan Watson, J H O'Neil, Mr Bud Wellington Joe Delavan, Charley Taylor and ten or twelve others and judging from their performance last week we do not hesitate to say that it will be superior to any performance of the season

AILSE VIA BATH.—The P T Co's steamers Reliance and Ajax, left, entered the basin at Oregon City on Saturday and the Union came down on Sunday from the Upper River The Reliance will to-day resume her trips to Salem, starting from the warehouse, and the other steamers will follow on their advertised days The Panama is being fitted up at Canemah and will not run at present The business should increase so as to demand her services

APPEARANCE OF A STEAMSHIP COMBINATION.—It was rumored on the streets, yesterday that the rival steamship companies, running vessels between this port and San Francisco, have finally entered into a combination to carry passengers and freight at an agreed scale of prices—$65 and $15 for passengers and $5 for freight. Nothing certain is known publicly, the rumor purporting to rest on private information. We doubt the correctness of the rumor although we find many persons who give it credence

PORTLAND M. E. CHURCH.—The pastor of the M. E. Church of Portland reports an increase in membership of fourteen during the last three months, who have joined by letter from other churches, and twenty nine who have joined on probation The average attendance at the Sunday School was about three hundred and the register shows a total attendance of three hundred and thirty four

THE OREGON CITY ENTERPRISE.—The Oregon City Enterprise failed to arrive here Saturday evening We have received a note from Mr Ireland request ing us to say that the failure occasioned through the accidental leaving of one of the mail sacks by the carrier at Oregon City It was duly mailed but not sent The delayed sack arrived yesterday

THE MAILS.—The mails came down yesterday making the connections through by stage to Oregon City It is expected that the stages will hereafter be able to connect in schedule time Mr Corbett, the agent came down yesterday after having spent some weeks along the line south, in efforts to keep the mails going

HEAVY UP-RIVER FREIGHTS.—The fall of the river has started the up river freights in large quantities The Alert took up on Saturday about one hundred tons being stowed full She unloaded at the wharf house wharf, for the first time since the rise of the river Yesterday morning she took up over eighty tons.

THE IDAHO.—The telegraph announces the arrival at San Francisco, on the 8th of the steamer Idaho 11 days from Bath Maine It is expected that she will shortly commence regular trips to this port alternating with the Montana and it is possible that she may come with the Ajax

THE AJAX.—This steamer did not sail from San Francisco on Saturday as telegraphed some days ago A telegram to the operator here announces that she will sail on Tuesday the 12th inst.

GONE TO SEA.—The Couch arrived from Astoria Saturday evening bringing the report that the Invicta and Fidelity went to sea on Thursday the 7th The steamers of the 7th went over the bar next morning without detention

WILLAMETTE FREIGHT.—Arrived per Alert February 10th 30 bbl bbls salmon 4 bales Oregon City Paper and 7 pkgs misc.

MACHINE GUN.—F J Cranmoss of Vallecito, Calaveras county, (Cal.) has invented a machine gun It was put on trial a few days since in San Francisco and is thus described

The weapon looks a good deal more like a patent washing machine than like a gun, but its effectiveness was illustrated with terrible effect. It consists of a wrought iron cylinder ten inches in diameter, which is perforated with eighty four holes on the surface. These holes are in chambers from which supplies proceed on the under side The powder and ball are put into two hoppers on the top of the cylinder, the caps are placed in a small box near the center of the side of the machine By turning a small crank with the hand of every operation the cylinder is filled with a graduated quantity of powder then with three balls which are lightly rammed in by the same motion that puts them into the chambers By turning the crank and dropping the hoppers well filled hundreds of shots may be fired in a minute through these rifle barrels, which passing through a tank of cold water project from the front of the machine Ninety shots were fired in fifteen seconds which at a distance of twenty seven yards perforated an inch board the shot from each barrel striking in nearly the same spot every time The whole machine only weighs one hundred and fifty pounds and is about three feet in extreme length by twenty inches in hight and ten inches wide It works on a pivot and can be pointed in any direction almost as readily as a pistol"

Fountain of Life!
GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER!
IN EVERY PROGRESSIVE SCIENCE PERIODS ARRIVE when a new direction is imparted to its course These epochs proceed from discovery of new facts shedding a light which changes the whole aspect of the science. The present is an epoch of this kind and this Great Remedy now offered to the public in connection with the theory on which it is based is destined to effect an entire revolution in the treatment of the diseases of SCROFULA AND KING'S EVIL!
by eradicating the disease entirely from the blood The FOUNTAIN OF LIFE is composed entirely of vegetable extracts It contains no Mercury or other mineral substance
The Proprietor and Discoverer of this Sovereign Remedy CHALLENGES THE WORLD to furnish anything, from the days of Æsculapius down to the present time, at all the arsenal of Medical Science which can vie with or excel the intrinsic properties of this Great Blood Purifier Its value has been tested with the happiest effect in the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, that ever baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians in the world No matter what form the dreadful disease of SCROFULA and KING'S EVIL may have assumed it can in no way be more safely and certainly arrested in its progress than by HENLEY'S GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER Thousands have been snatched from the grave who had long made a timely use of the FOUNTAIN OF LIFE might now feel joy in the blessings of life and health It requires an article of real merit and intrinsic value to sustain itself During the stern ordeal of public experiment the FOUNTAIN OF LIFE has stood the test to all and has been found wanting.
Dr HENLEY guarantees to CURE any case of SCROFULA or KING'S EVIL in the world and eradicate the disease entirely from the system or no charge is made —provided they will secure him his fee when they are cured
FOR REFERENCE
I would refer you to L L Peck of Portland Mrs. Walter Medlin and numerous others as to what a marvelous effect it had in a short time in cases that had baffled the skill of physicians for years

A Strange Story.—Recovery of a Large Sum of Money through a Dream.—The Value of a Felon.—The Lansing Democrat mentions some circumstances of a most remarkable nature in respect to the discovery of a large sum of money which had been lost for five years. The strange and mercantile story is told as follows by the lucky finder who passed through the city for Montreal last week, for the purpose of having the bills redeemed at the bank

"On the 16th of December 1861 Mr S——, who then lived on the Grand River road near this city came to market with a load of wheat accompanied by his son, the narrator of these circumstances. The load of wheat with a span of horses, was sold for the sum of $978 50 and the man returned home where soon after their arrival the father was taken with cholera morbus, and died just after daylight the next morning. After his funeral search was made for the money—which until then the family had been too sorely afflicted to think of—but to their astonishment only the $78 50 could be found. What had become of the remainder was a question which could not be satisfactorily solved. The whole house was thoroughly searched, and at length it was concluded that the money must have been lost on the way home, yet after advertising extensively through the columns of the Free Press and offering a reward of $50 to the finder for the recovery of the money, no trace of it could be discovered, and the event gradually passed out of mind.

But now comes the sequel unlooked for and singular, in which the money is recovered through a dream. The young man, who with the family now resides in Ingraham county, has been recently suffering with a painful felon which tortured him so with loss of sleep that on Tuesday night of the week before last, he took a dose of opium under the influence of which, after retiring to bed, he fell into a profund slumber. In the midst of his sleep, he dreamed over the trip he made to this city with his father, every circumstance of which was repeated minutely, with the incidents of time and place of sale, both of the the wheat and the horses, the counting of the money, etc, in addition to which he saw in his dream that the two men were closely watching his father while receiving the money, that they afterwards went away when his father took off his hat and placed nearly all the money inside the lining of oil skin. This dream, several times repeated, finally awoke Mr S, who related it to his wife, who had not yet retired, when she went to an old chest, long unused, and brought out the hat which the old man had last worn, seemingly, anything but a money bag yet on turning back the lining, five hundred dollars in Canada bank bills were found in a tolerable state of preservation. This is strange, but "fewer true tales," as well as the respectability and trustworthiness of the relator, are vouched for by responsible parties, besides the "pile," the most tangible and satisfactory result of the vagaries of the exhausted mind, working upon the 'unreal stuff that dreams are made of,' remains to testify the truth of the unusual occurrence.—Detroit Free Press

Papal Trouble.—If Pius the Ninth should be driven again from Rome he will have the consolation of reflecting that he is not by any means the first of the long line of Popes who have endured the miseries of exile. The following list, long as it is, does not comprise all the Popes who have suffered from the violence of faction and of war.

Pope Liberius was imprisoned by a heretical Emperor, Silverus died in exile, Vigilius was imprisoned and exiled, St Martin died in exile, a martyr, St. Leo III was given to Spoleto. Leo V. was dethroned and cast into prison. John VII. had to fly from Rome. Benedict V. was carried off into Germany, John XIII fled from a Roman faction and took refuge in Capua, Benedict VI was imprisoned and murdered by a Roman faction, John XIV. was cast into the prison of St. Angelo and died of hunger, Gregory V was compelled to fly from Rome by a civil tumult, Benedict VIII was driven from Rome by a faction, Benedict IX. was twice driven out, Leo IX was dethroned by the Normans, Gregory VII went from land to land, and from kingdom to kingdom, and in exile, Victor III could not so much as take possession of his See, and died at Benoventura, Urban II was restored by the French Crusaders, Pascal II was carried off by Henry V and imprisoned, Gelasius II was compelled to fly to Gaeta, Honorious II was compelled to fly into France by an anti Pope, who usurped his See, Eugenius III was driven out of Rome by Arnold of Brescia, Alexander III, on the very day of his consecration, was cast into prison, he was consecrated, not in the Holy City, but in a village church, he was obliged to enter the mountains for safety, he passed his time wandering from Terracina to Anagni, from Anagni to Tusculum. Urban III and Gregory VIII. could not even take possession of Rome, Lucius III fled to Verona, Gregory III. was compelled, by insurrection at Rome, to retire to Perugia, Innocent IV. fled to Genoa; Alexander IV fled to Viterbo, Martin IV never entered Rome. Boniface VIII was a prisoner at Anagni. Then came the great Western schism, which lasted 70 years, during which time seven Popes resigned in Avignon. Urban VI. fled to Genoa, Innocent VII fled from the factions in Rome to Viterbo, Gregory XI fled to Gaeta, John XXIII. fled from Rome, Eugenius IV. was besieged in his own palace by an anti-Pope and was obliged to fly to Florence. Still more recently, almost in our own time, Pius VII was held in captivity by the first Napoleon. The Catholic sovereigns, in fact, have seldom scrupled to make war on the Pope when it seemed to be for their interest to do so.

"The Ruling Passion."—A good illustration occurred a few days since, of 'the ruling passion' even in death. An old man in his last illness was admitted into one of the London hospitals. He was without relations, friends, or apparent means of subsistence, but when undressed and put to bed, a bag of money was found suspended by a string around his neck. To this he clung with tenacity, refusing to part with it to any one, and wearing it about him by day and night. As his end approached, the treasure became a matter of anxiety to those attending him, for the sum was evidently large, and it was feared it might offer temptation to some patient in case the moment of his death was not observed. At length the hour arrived, and when death had apparently claimed him, a nurse gently unfastened the string and removed the bag. At the same moment the old man opened his eyes, and felt instinctively for his treasure, which was no longer in its place. He uttered the word 'Gone!' and died. The money, which was found to amount to £174, was handed over to the hospital authorities.

The Doctor Knows what the Girls Like.—During the war one of those lovely ladies who devoted themselves to relieving the sufferings of the soldiers, was going through a ward of a hospital. There she found two convalescent soldiers sawing and hammering, making such a noise that she felt it necessary to interfere in her gentle way.

"Why," she said, "what is that? what are you doing?"

"What are we doin'? Makin' a coffin—that's what!"

"A coffin, indeed, and who is it for?"

"Who for? that follow over there," pointing behind him.

The lady looked, and saw a man lying on his white bed, yet alive, who seemed to be watching what was being done.

"Why," she said, in a low voice, "that man isn't dead. He is alive, and perhaps he won't die. You had better not go on."

"Go on! Yes, yes, we shall. The doctor he told us. He said, make the coffin, and I guess he know'd what he gav' him."

A Paris, Kentucky correspondent of the Cincinnati Times writes concerning that place A humorous lecturer who came here recently, sent his agent on a couple of days ahead to smooth his way. On his arrival he found Mr Agent thoroughly Bourbonized. Whether or not there is 'a Bourbon among us' he had certainly been among a good deal of Bourbon. The following dialogue ensued between lecturer and agent:

Lecturer—What are the prospects?

Agent—Splendid prospects.

Lecturer—What kind of a house do you think we'll have?

Agent—(hic) Full.

Lecturer—About how full.

Agent—(hic) Full as tick.

Lecturer—Do you think the people here appreciate humor?

Agent—"Preshate humor? Well if as a feller to drink every fifteen minutes is preshation 'f humor, they've (hic) got it.

"I say, mister, did you see a dog come by here that looked as if he were a year or a year and a half, or two years old?" said a Yankee to a countryman at the roadside.

"Yes," said the countryman, thinking himself quizzed. He passed about an hour, or an hour and a half or two hours ago, and was now a mile or a mile a half or two miles ahead, and he had a tail about an inch, or an inch and a half, or two inches long."

"That'll do," said the Yankee "you've into me a foot, or a foot and a half or two feet."

A young couple had been married by a Quaker, and after the ceremony he remarked to the husband "I friend thou art now at the end of thy troubles."

A few weeks after, the young man came to the good minister, boiling over with rage (his wife was a regular vixen). "I thought you told me that I was at the end of my troubles!"

"So I did friend but I did not say which end."
